CHARLES FRODSHAM'S CHRONOMETER WATCHES.

Boston, November 27, 1858. WE hereby constitute Messrs. JOHN KITTS &

atches made by Obsries Frodsham, 84 Strand, for the city of Louisville and State of Kentucky.

CHARLES FRODSHAM'S WATCHES. SIMON WILLARD & SON.

No. 9 Congress Street, Boston, Sole Agents in the United States of America of OHAS FRODSHAM, 53 Strand, London, would respectfully give notice that at the distribution of Prizes at the Great Paris Exhibition, 1835, the GRAND MEDAL OF HONOR Was awarded to Mr. Frodsham for the perfection of the principle, mechanism, and performance of the Chronom-eter Watches exhibited by him, and styled his "NEW

The critical notice accompanying the award, written by a distinguished French Savan, says: "Mr. Frodsham, therefore, has rendered eminent service to science; it is justice that he be rewarded for it, at least with the enlogiam of public praise."

In the new series, Mr. Frodsham has succeeded by a more perfect method of compensation, a more correct adjustment in isocuration, and in an entirely new and peculiar construction at the train, in producing watches unaffected by changes of temperature, position or motion, or even violent exercise, and at the same time of unrivaled accuracy.

At the London Exhibition of 1851, Mr. Frodsham's contribution was noticed as bearing the stamp of pecu-

Frodsham the sum of £3,170.

Mr. Frodsham, after a great number of experiments came to the conclusion that the only way to improve the watch was by adopting the proportions of the Marine Chronometer, its tests and adjustments;—this Mr. Frodsham bas done in the watches of the New Spaies, and has found that will instrictly chronometrical proportions they are quite at variance with many of those of the best modern construction. Experience proves the New Spaies Warchest to be stronger, more powerful, and more accurate than any heretofore produced.

In over one hundred instances these watches have stood the test of actual daily noting, and have exhibited as a result, a rate wanal in regularity to the best Marine Cbronometers. In several instances, their performance at sea has been superior to the Chronometer.

To those who reside on the line of railroads, or whose avocations taking them frequantly in the cars, make a perfect timekeeper less of a luxury than a necessity, these Watches are recommended with the most complete confidence.

Wim. Brown, Esq., a distinguished engineer of Ohlo, writes of these watches: "Finally, from what I have known of Frodsham's Watches, I am strongly impressed with the idea that they are a decided improvement on all other time-pieces, and were they set in gimhals, and used with some care, I think their performance would equal that of Mr. Frodsham's celebrated Box Obronometer, and would answer the same purpose for determining longitudes."

Mesers. Willard & Son-Gents: The gold watch, Unas. Frodsham, No. 7,166, I purchased of you, has performed with wonderful accuracy. During the three years I bave owned it, it has never been one minute from the time time, and for one period of nine months its variation was less than two reconds. I never supposed a pocket watch capable of such perfection of time. Yours, truly,

Tax-Payers Only are Voters. Those who want to vote at the April election must pay their poll tax before the 14th day of this nonth. The Know Nothings, for the purpose of buying enough votes, hy paying taxes, to carry elections, got the odious law through our Legislature which disfranchises every man who don't pay his tithe twenty days before the city election Let every Democrat disappoint the originators of this infamous law hy paying his poll tax at once. The tax is only $1 50 per head, and if any man is too poor to pay it, let him call on his neighbor for help. There are hundreds of generous Democrats in this city who will not permit a poor man lo be disfranchised because he can't pay $1 50, as do his rulers, whom the Journal calls the elite of

THE PENALTY OF ADULTERY .- There is a great nconsistency in public opinion on some matters. Nineteen out of every twenty in the community seem to justify the action of Sickles in attacking and killing an unarmed and unwarned man, for naving heen guilty of adultery with his wife. Yet f a law were proposed that should make the rime which Key committed punishable even hy imprisonment in the penitentiary, how many of these same justifiers would be the first to cry out against it? According to modern ethics, the crime of adultery is so monstrous as to justify deliherate assassination, and yet no law with adequate penalties is enacted for its suppression, and o such law would prohably receive half a dozen votes in any legislature in the United States. One thing is certain, that both of these positions can't be right. If Sickles was justifiable in killing Key, there ought to be a law which would have legally punished Key's offense with death, or at least with imprisonment in the penitentiary.

MINS SOPHIE WERNER. - About two weeks sinc we were invited to he present at a private performance of this young lady upon the piano forte. We were most agreeably surprised at the decidedly superior style of her it daily about my usual occupations.

Lest I may be accused of exaggeration, I will not express the high estimation in which I hold these watches; performance, embracing a facility of execution the author, which are rarely combined in one person; and what adds to the meritorious char acter of the performance, is the fact that the roung lady in question is but eleven years of age. Har father, Mr. Fr. Werner, and also her mother, are well known in Ciucinnati circles as finished performers, the former heing one of the very best oupils of the famous Chopiu of Paris. We understand that Miss Sophie will give a concert in this city on next Thursday evening, assisted by a corps of distinguished amaleurs and the Orpheus Society, and we cau assure our readers that those who attend will enjoy a feast of music, of which it is seldom our privilege to partake.

who says he resides in Grayson county, Ky., has been passing counterfeit $20 bills on the Bank of Louisville, in Cincinnati. So perfect is the resemblance to the genuine, some of the brokers were imposed ou. When taken into custody he claimed that he took the stuff for good money .-The bills are dated in 1852, and bear the name of Joshua B. Bowles as President. The bills may e detected by the fact that the top of the letters vi" in Louisville, and "we" in twenty, are connected together. A female figure with a raised sickle in the right hand, occupies each end of the hills. In the vignetle a man sits on a mule in front of a farm house, and a close observer will discover a white spot on the tail of the animal .-The bills are well calculated to deceive, but may be detected by the marks which we have pointed

A Suggestion as to Dueling and Adultery .-Some years ago, in the excitement which followed the Graves and Cilley duel, Congress passed a very stringent law prohibiting dueling in the District, the effect of which has been in a great measure to repress the practice there. Wouldn't it be well just now, that the public mind is occupied with the Key and Sickles tragedy, for Congress to pass a similar law upon the subject of adultery n the District? Place the adulterer and the duelist upon the same footing, and perhaps such lia- tail price fully 121/2c. sons as that of Key and Mrs. Sickles will hereafter end as duels now do, in a killing correspondence, and nothing else. The experiment is worth trying.

This morning, (Tnesday,) at 10 o'clock, Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co. will sell for cash, at their auction rooms, a large invoice of spring and summer dry goods, carpet bags, nmbrellas, men's wemen's, and misses' hoots and shoes, with a variety of notions and furnishing goods; a large line of ladies', gents', and children's cotton hosiery, received since last sale, will be sold .-The very special attention of country buyers is called to this sale.

ELOPENSNT .- A correspondent at Vanderburg, Hopkins county, Ky., writes us that Mrs. Herrin, wife of A. B. Herrin, a wealthy citizen of that county, has eloped with one Conway, a man of bad character. Added to wealth, she was possess ed of accomplishments, and was very handsome. No reason is assigned for the strange freak.

light wagon attached, started from the corner of Clay and Market, going up street at a rapid rate. He was arrested in his wild career at the corner of Wenzel.

The inmates of the wagon were more scared than hurt.

DISTINGUISMED VISITORS .- We had the pleasure of a visit yesterday from the Hon. H. C. Burnett and the Hon. Samuel O. Peyton, who are on their way home. These gentlemen were noble members of the Congress that has just closed, and we hope that their constituents will send them back to act mobly again.

We learn from a correspondent, that on March 2d, near White Hall, Madison county, Ky., Jas. Maupin, a youth of 15 years, shot his cousin, the nose of one of the belligerents.

Facts from a Personal Witness of the Hawesville Tragedy.

A gentleman just from Hawesville, and who witnessed the whole transaction which terminated in the assassination of Lowe, informs us that the opinion we express in another article on the subject of the coat of mail is correct. The whole atory is an unmitigated lie, and known to be a lie by those who started it.

When Lowe came out of the widow's house and gave up his arms, it was upon a solemn pledge of the word of honor of his assailants that he should not be molested. He had hardly started for the court house, however, hefore a renewed attack was made upon him, and repeated shots firad. He would then have been killed but for the interference of A. M. Mayo, himself a personal enemy of Lowe's, but who had too many of the such an outrage when has too many of the such an outrage when be was hy. He succeeded in arresting the attack, and then it was he said to Lawe that it was reported he was he said to Lawe that it was reported he was a course of the lagislature, whose names were given by us last the time of the disaster, of whom two hundred are lost and missing. said to Lowe that it was reported he was wearing a coat of mail. Lowe denounced the charge as false, and invited an examination. The examination was made publicly, and the falsehood of the statement demonstrated, and this fact was proved before the Grand Jury.

We learn another fact from the same source, that places Judge Stewart in no enviable light.—
Judge Stewart had possession of the keys of the jail; he had pledged himself, in a public speech to the citizens, to keep them; yet, in despite of this pledge, he absolutely forced the jailer to take the place in the place of the said speech to the citizens. Smith of the Kata Dale in the said speech to the place in the place is the place is the place in the place is the place in the place is the them from him, and in less than half an honr afterwards the jailer was compelled to open the jail door to admit the assassins. Why did not Judge Stewart keep the keys, as he had promised, instead of giving them to an ignorant jailer to be bullied by the assassins?

We learn further that Withrow, one of the assassins the fames were remidle.

We learn further that Withrow, one of the assussins, was indicted for getting ln an improper way the money of a drunken man, and that it was through Lowe's instrumentality that the indictment was found. It stood for trial at the present term, but the indictment has been quashed since Lowe's death, for some real or pretended informality upon its face. This too needs ex' planstiou.

We learn, also, that the report of the Grand Jury was not their voluntary act, but was forced from them by the assassins. We do not know that this fact places them in any better attitude before the country.

The whole atrocious villainy has been done by ome eight or ten persons, who have made use of the Maxwell difficulty to wreak their own cowardly vengeance upon Lowe for past difficulties which they had not the manly courage to meet him singly upon. Many of the citizens of Hawesville either stood cowardly by, afraid to raise voice or hand against the sickening hrutality of the assassius, or fled from the towu.

It is not a case of misled public excitement.—
It is nothing of the kind. It is simply a town ouquered by a gang of cowardly assassins. Nine out of ten of the citizens would vote to hang the miscreants to-morrow if they dared .-

Heaven help such a community. We are informed that a gay and gallant mamber of our bar disclaims any connection with the advertisement in the Journal headed "Caulion to Young Ladies," and signed M. S. F., the initials of the Colonel's name. Knowing the colonel to be a gay and ardent aspirant for hymenial honors, we hope that no one thought he was the man. His communications to the fair sex are upon guilt paper highly perfumed, and uclosed with Cupid seals. He would not think of making a pewspaper fuss about his wooings

INDECENT .- A man who answers to the name of A. Hassan, was committed to prison yesterday, for indecent conduct towards a little girl, aged only 10 years. He was subsequently released on bail, and his case will he investigated this morning. If he was guilty of conduct as represented to us, he ought to he hung. The examination will show, however, his innocence or guilt.

ted Thomas S. Lowe, in the Hawesville jail, used he pistols of the unfortunate man who fell a victim to their relentless and savage atrocity. In the street fight which occurred the day beore the assassination, it is said no less than thir. y-five holes were shot in his clothes. * It has been suggested that if some of the am-Nicholasite elite will take a story or two rom the heels of their polished boots, it will as sist them very much su getting down to a level with the people. If the suggestion is carried out, we suppose the popular cry will be come it, instead of go it boots. How would Brother Bullock look coming it boots down a story or two? They furnish this liquor wholesale and retail, if ordered as above. DEMOCRATIC MEETING WEDNESDAY NIGHT .- The Democrats of the Sixth Ward meet on Wednesday evening, and not on Tuesday, as has been published. The Know Nothings hold their meeting in the same room to-night; and as it is their funeral, the Democrats haven't any right to speak on that occasion. CATTLE ADVANCING .- We notice sales of choice beeves in the market at 5c gross weight, including a lot of 85 head from Shelby and Nelson counties. The most of them were shipped South. This makes the nett price of beef 9c, and the re-The attention of the traveling commun y is directed to Walker's Omnihus Line, which conveys passengers to and from the hotels and railroad depots within the city. The propri-

[From the New Orioans Deita.] Terrible Disaster of the Princess.

The first great calamity of this season, which, up to this event, had been for our community unusually free from afflicting occurrences, was an nounced yesterday to our population, and pro-duced a universal thrill of terror and grief. It was the explosion of one of the boilers of the swas the explosion of one of the boilers of the splendid and favorite Mississippi steam packet Princess, usually considered one of the safest and best conducted of our steamboats. As the news sent by telegraph spread through the city, the streets filled with anxious inquirers, and when our evening edition, giving the first authentic intelligence of the calamity, was issued, the demand for it was so great that it was with much difficulty we could supply it.

The Princess was on her way down the river from Vicksburg, having on board from one hun-

down the river at some distance, but in sight of the Princess, when suddenly a loud report, as of the discharge of a whole hattery of heavy artillery, was heard, producing a perceptible shock and filling the air with smoke and fragments.— All rushed on deck, and looking toward the Prin-cess, saw that she was the victim of this terrible

Some time—at least an hour—had elapsed hefore the Kate Dale had reached the scene, and oh! what an hour was that! The air was filled with piteous screams and groans, cries for help, and screams of agony; the shrill tones of women mingling with the hoarse voices of men. Prompt measures were taken by all ou board the Kate Dale to afford every aid in their power to the wounded, and to rescue those in the river. Fortunately, there were two physicians on board the tunately, there were two physicians on board the Kate Dale, their names Bulger and Blaffen, whose services were most kindly and efficiently rendered to the wounded.

The Kate Dale had some thirty of the passen gers and crew, who were uninjured, put on the steamer Vixen, and after doing all that was possi-ble for the relief of the unfortunate steamer, those two boats proceeded on their way to the city, and arrived here ahout two o'clock yesterday after-noon. The scene presented in the cabin of that steamer beggars all description. On the floor lay some tifteen hadly wounded; five of them taken on board had already found relief in death. Some of the wounded rolled in ageny, uttering the most sickening growns, others lay motionless, helpless, and who reach the that and apparently paralyzed, and all presented that blackened, ghastly and horrible aspect of the burnt and scalded—the most revolting aspect in which the human form can be presented. Every relief which the case demanded was extended to the unfortunates. Some were taken to the hos pitals, others to their own residences and the

Of those received by the Kate Dala, the following died before she reached the city; Edward Quigg, owner of the har; Mr. Carey, barkeeper; Henry Brown, assistant; Ruben, (colored man); Wm. Several of the passengers above enumarated desire mention of and a return of their thanks to Wm. Campbell, the drat steward of the Princess, for the noble herolsm and courage with which he acted in rescuing several persons, and the untiring exertions manifested toward the sufferers.—
One gentleman, Mr. Higgins, in particular, says that no one ever exhibited a more daring spirit and greater coolness in danger, united with almost a woman's tenderness. He deserves and is tendered the most heartfelt thanks of the rescued.

The steamer Vices also brought down the followers. The steamer Vixen also brought down the fol-owing passengers, who were transferred from the Kate Dale: Mr. Loring and son; Dr. J. P. Burke, Tenn.; A. L. Hare; J. W. Blanks; Messrs. Sprague and Stevenson, and twenty-five of the crew, all of whom are uninjured.

As a number of persons were picked no while clinging to bales of cotton, and taken to the opposite shore, hope was expressed that among them were the acting captain, Wm. L. Jackson, and Mr. John Clark, assistant clerk; hut the arrival of the Empress, Capt. Leyden, on yesterday some twenty persons, among who n were six or eight wounded firemen, all colored but one. A white man, whose name we could not ascertain, died on the passage. The Natchez took a large number of persons back to the points from which they embarked, and also a number of wounded were carried to Batou Rouge.

The Princess was one of the most splendid boats on the river, having been built at Cincinnati in 1855, and enjoyed a reputation for safety never yet gained by any other steamer—a confidence which rendered the shock greater. Her officers have always heen known as among the most careful men on the river, and from the fact that only ful men on the river, and from the fact that only one hoiler exploded, it is thought that there must have been a flaw impossible for the most experienced eye to detect. She was commanded by Capt. Wui. C. Wilson, who, fortunately for him self and family, was detained in this city and did not go up on her.

The Princess was owned as follows: One-half hy Capt. C. Wilson, three-eights by Capt. Truman C. Holmes, and the remaining eighth hy Mr. James Izod, the first clerk. During the past summer she had been repaired at a cost of $20,000, and over $900 were spent in repairing boilers.

Those who witnessed the explosion, uninjured describe it as appalling in the extreme.

No one knows the real cause of the explosion. There are a thousand and one reports in regard to INCIDENTS OF THE EXPLOSION. At the time of the explosion Messrs. Canonge, Bannister, Laville and Huard, were sitting in the gentlemen's cabin, immediately over the boilers, conversing together. Mr. Canonge, together with the chair in which he was sitting, was thrown by the explosion hack into the ladies' cabin unburt, and found himself landed squarely sitting in the same chair. (Rather a tough story.)

Mrs. Morton, who was saved, had a son with her whout two years of age, who was picked up some about two years of age, who was picked np some nine miles from the scene of the disaster, below the wreck, and found to be entirely uninjured.

Mr. Smith having obtained the premium for the best "lager," manifested his delight yeaterday by parading his beer wagon, nicely decorated with ribbons, through the principal streets of the city.

Pirk.—The alarm of fire, on yesterday afternoon, was caused by the candle factory of Armstrong & Co., at the upper end of Main street, taking fire. It was extinguished without the aid of the engines.

Fight.—Two men engaged in combat yasterday, on Market street, between Shelby and Campbell. Weapons, fists. The claret flowed freely from the passe of one of the belligerents.

The Asudden gust of wind upset a wagon load of hay, at the corner of Praston and Washington at the dead at Bayon Sars.

The deapair and gloom which pervade our community cannot be described. Among the saved there were probably one hundred more or less wounded.

Many of these have since died at the varions places to which they have been carried, but it is impossible to get a full and correct list of the mishap occurred on Portland Avenne.

POLICE COURT.

GEORGE W. JOHNSTON, JUDGE. Monday, March 7, 1959. Assault.--W. H. Watts, Wesley Evans, and Jas. Wilson were arraigned for assault on M. Rentlinger. The witness stated he had some difference as to the payment of $65 which Watts' demanded of him, and which lawyer Green told him not to pay, but send Constable Wehh to him, and he would pay it. Watts went to the house of Rentlinger, and demanding the money, the witness pushed him out of the huose. Watts then got an axe, and Rentlinger got his double barrel gun to defend himself, but his wife clung around his neck and prevented him using his gun. While in this position, Evans got hold of the gun, and struck witness and knocked him down. Evans also said he would like to 'kill him." The witness subsequently met Dr. Evans, and said to him, if he would like to try his strength, he was no coward. The Judge refused to hear further testimony, and said all the parties should answer for a riot hefore the grand jurv. At the request of the consul for Evans and Wilson, who wanted to prove they didn't go there with Watts, the case was re-opened.

A witness testified that as Rentlinger put Watts out, the other men, who had been sitting on some lumber inside of the yard of complainant, rushed up to assist Watts, who picked up a stick first and then took the axe, and said it would do hetter. All the men got hold of Rentlinger to take the yan away from the latter. The witness ASSAULT .-- W. H. Watts, Wesley Evans, and

Dr. Evans was admitted to testiff, and said he and Wilson did not go there with Watts, but were merely waiting for him to come out; and that he interfered only to prevent Rentlinger from shooting some one. The Commonwealth did not hold it a riot, nor did the presecution think Watts are Wilson committed an assault. The Court Watts or Wilson committed an assault. The Court could decide as to Evans' offense. The attorney for Rentlinger thought all of the men had been guilty of an offense against the law. The Judge, on the conclusion of the testimony, ordered the entire party to give hail in $100, to answer a misdemeanor.

STARTLING THEORY-GOLD IN PROCESS OF FOR-WATION .- A correspondent of the San Francisco National, writing from the mines, relates the following singular incident:

The continuous formation of gold in this region is not no frequently maintained by men who have practical observance of results which favor such assumption. Recently a common axe was dugup, having probably lain four or five years in the red earth which is common to this region, and its entire surface exhibited fine gold deposited upon it—the iron was, of course, very mach rusted. It is asserted by able analytical chemists, that gold can be obtained from all the earth and rocks found within the gold belt. The future of California as a mineral country is no longer problematical; the exhausting of placers only is removed to a long period, while the development of gold in so many of the geological formations, seems to determine the fact that it is only a question of time when science will be the assistant to the present rude methods, and the operations be conducted upon principles that are positive in their results. lowing singular incident:

It was also in proof before the Jury that ou Monday, the day before the fight, Jury that ou Monday, the day before the light, Lowe had upon his person a steel shirt, or coat of mail, which he stated he wore to prevent the bullets from entering his body. He was very slightly wounded. From the character of Lowe as proved before the Jury his menaces and threats, his preparations and demonstrations of violence, his open defiance to the law and its officars, and the active part taken by Aldridge, the Violence, his open denance to the law and its officers, and the active part taken by Aldridge, the first act in this dread drama of cowardice canonized.

One would naturally suppose that the lowest well was in imminent peril, and also that the persons and lives of citizens living in the vicinity, as well as those in attendance upon Court, were put in jeopardy, and that the wounding of Lowe and the killing of Aldridge were excusable and justifiable on the principles of self-preservation. "In reference to the killing of Lowe on the next day, when he was unarmed and confined in jail, a difference of online exists in the Grand Lury."

diference of opinion exists in the Grand Jury. A majority of the jury, however, believe that the fives of the two persons by whom he was said to have been slain, were threatened by him, and would have been unsafe if he had been permitted to live, and that the same principles of self-preservation which justified the killing of Aldridge, were applicable to the killing of Lowe. The Grand Jury unitedly deplore that so great provocation to violene existed in this county, and that blood has been shed in the very presence of justice. They hope sincerely that the bloody proceedings referred to may bave a salutary effect upon the community—that the result may inculcate a desire to have the laws promptly administered, and impress upon those who disregard the rights of others, the certainty that in the judgment of all good men, the law is magnified when he who without right, appeals to the sword is by erence of opinion exists in the Grand Jury he who without right, appeals to the sword is by the sword destroyed. They all regret that the law should have been inadequate to remedy the law should have been inadequate to remedy the existing evil. It is plain the law must protect men or they will protect themselves, and this jury seriously fear that nuless the law is made to act more rigorously, force will assume the sceptre, and the rights of the citizens be determined by the strong arm of violence. They also hope that those who assumed the redress of their own and the wrongs of the public, will not so act in removing a public terror, as to become a substitute for the same in the community, and that a love of law and order may from this day distinguish and redeem the citizens of Hancock county.

The communications referred to in the report above, and made part of said report, are as follows, up to the execuations they so richly merit.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., March 1, 1859. HAWESVILLE, KY., March 1, 1859.

Mr. Cicero Maxwell.—Sir: Because you denounced me as a d—d juggler and a d—d tool of Jesse S. Taylor, and because I afterwards wrote a very peaceable note remonstrating against your course towards me, the object of which was to procure a peaceable settlement at your handa, which note you refused to receive, I threatened to horsewbip you. I was driven to the making of this threat because by your refusal to receive my note you placed me beyond the pale of gentlemanly consideration, and cut me off from all channels of communication in use among gentlemen. of communication in use among gentlemen.—
Through eight months and one day I have earnestly aought an amicable settlement of this matter, and have made four earnest efforts to obtain a peaceable settlement with you. Last night a negotiation between us for an amicable settlement was broken up on account of second negotiation between us for an amicable settlement was broken up on account of your unjust demands relative to the withdrawal of my threat to horsewhip you. After mature consideration, I now withdraw, and forever obliterate my threat to horsewhip you. I now propose my entire willingness to accept a challenge from yon, and pledge my personal standing to give you as fair fight. If you object to this, I will challenge you. If you do not accede to one of these propositions, in order to render me honorable satisfacTHOS. S. LOWE.

HAWRSVILLE, Ky., March 1, 1859.

Mr. Thomas S. Lowe—Sir: Being assured this morning by my friend Mr. Wm. B. Wall, that you desired to address me a communication withdrawing the threats you have made against me, in order that our difficulty might be amicably adjusted, and being willing to do everything I could consistent with my honor to effect such an object, I consented to receive such a communication.

A communication from you was placed in my hands this morning, while eagaged in a jury cause, by Mr. Wall, which I received under the impression that it contained nothing but a withdrawal of the threats you have made against me. Had its contents been explained to me, situated as I was by your threats, I could not have resided in the besided in the as I was by your threats, I could not have received it, but having received and read it, I feel compelled to make some response. If you had stopped with the witbdrawal of the threat, our difficulty, I have no doubt, would have soon been amicably settled, but your propositions, coupled as they are with such an outrageons threat, add but another insult to those I conceive I have received. another insult to those I conceive I have received. I do not think for a moment of acceding to your

Respectfully, CICERO MAXWELL.

I certify that the foregoing are true copies of the report of the Graud Jury, and the communi-cations referred to in the same, now on file in my office of record. Attest: JAMES E. STONE, Clerk Hancock Circuit Court. Hawesville, Ky., March 5, 1859.

is it possible that a Grand Jury, that bulwark of justice, that palladium of right, has upon the oath of its sworn members made such an official report as the above, and spread it upon the records of a court of law? Can infamy find a lower depth than this? The red savage, who in years gone by murdered by slow tortures his defenseless prisoner, would have indignantly scouted such au ex cuse. He would have told you truly that he acted from motives of revenge-because his heart was black, not because his liver was white with fear. The robber, who steals upon his sleeping victim and cuts his throat in the dark, is a saint in the calendar of chivalry compared with these Hawesrille assassins. Ilis motive is gain, and he takes the risk of an armed resistance. But the assas sins of Lowe have no excuse but their craven fears: they took no risk, for they knew, well knew, that their victim was unarmed and helpless from wounds. They murdered him because they The Hawesville Tragedy - The Grand Jury's feared him, and because they could do it safely .-

The same excuse offered by the Grand Jury for the craven deed, would justify these same assasbeen justly regarded as a synonym for all that is sins in cutting the throats of Lowe's infant chilbrave and chivalrons in our nature. Peaceable dren. Those children may become dangerou when they grow up and learn the story of their father's murder. "Self-detence" may require that which from time to time stained with blood the | the trembling cravens who murdered their father should also murder them, and it would be safer to Let us briefly review the facts in the case: Lowe considered himself aggrieved at Maxwell's de nonncing him as a d-d jnggler and d-d tool of child birth as raised a hand against a disarmed Jesse S. Taylor. For eight months he tried, by notes and messages to Maxwell, and through the intervention of mutual friends, to adjust the insult and prevent a collision. All negotiations having failed, Lowe did that which he considered himself bound to do under the code of honor .-He sent Maxwell a note, offering to give or re ceive a challenge, and tendering a street fight as the alternative. Maxwell declined both proposi tions, and the alternative, by a written auswer .-On reception of Maxwell's answer, Lowe sent him went upon the street, and, in a public speech, reviewed the difficulty between himself and Man well. He denounced Maxwell in unmeasured terms, and declared that if Maxwell did not meet him in half an hour, he would forever wire him from his memory. While Lowe was speaking Maxwell, accompanied by Mayhall, Harris, Mor ton, Witbrow and others' approached him with rifles and shot-guns, and commenced firing npon him. Lowe having nothing but pistols, and not being prepared to stand against such weapons, attempted to get to his guns in another place. The firing was so hot upon him that he took refuge in the house of Mrs. Smart, near by His assailants went to the house and demand the public square in Hawssville, where a number of persons were collected, and a conflict having taken place in which an individual by the name of John Aldridge was killed and others wounded, after a careful investigation of the foots woulded. ed that Lowe should come out. They promised protected. Lowe took them at their word, and > assailants began to fire upon him again. fled amid a shower of their bullets, and after ruuning some distance, was saved only by the interposition of A. M. Mayo, who placed his own body between the mob and their victim. Lowe was finally lodged in jail to protect him from the mob. He remained there all night, and the next morning Hardin Davidson and Thos. Withrow entered the prison, and shot him while he lay upon his bed wounded, exhausted and unarmed After shooting him several times in the head and heart, they went out, but fearing that their work was not thoroughly done, they returned and fired

Such are the leading facts in the case, withou condemning or approving of the course of eithe Lowe or Maxwell previous to the beginning of the tragedy on Tuesday last. The position of both parties up to that time will hereafter be laid beore the world in the shape of the correspondence on the subject between them and their friends And with such facts before them, what are chivalrous Kentuckians to think of the terrible affair The rumors set affoat as to the character of Lowe and his preparatious for a tight, including his wearing of a coat of mail, will not justify the heinous crime of the taking of his blood as it was spilt. Who believes the story of a coat of mail !-Where is it? What truthful man has seen it?-Theoaths of a pyramid of such assassins would not be sufficient to raise even a suspicion that it was true. The lie is palpable because the fact is physically impossible. No such coat of mail could be made and worn, as stated, that would resist a rifle ball. If it be asked how Lowe escaped also from so many shots, we answer, the trembling hands of the assassins refused to execute the purpose of their craven hearts. We have no doubt that in their frght and terror, onehalf of them fired in the air, and the other half perhaps in all directions around the n. This was

One would naturally suppose that the lowest lepth of cowardly infamy had been reached .-Lowe is wounded, helpless, disarmed, in jail, with not a friend near him. Surely he is safe there .--But hatred and vengeance must be disarmed !-Yes, batred and vengeance would have been disarmed, but not cowardice! The miserable cravens could not feel safe so long as Lowe lived. They feared him. They dared not meet him on equal terms. They first satisfied themselves that he was wholly defenseless—as much so as if bis bands and feet had been bound in triple chains-and then they murdered him. And such an act as this a Grand Jury of the country justify! They say "the same principles of self-preservation which justified the killing of Aldridge were applicable to the killing o Lowe." And then they express the bope "that the bloody proceedings referred to may have a salntary effect upon the community." Are these men lunatics? What manner of men are they? What sort of hearts have they in their bosoms, what manner of beads upon their shoul. ders, deliberately and as the organ of the law to justify such a deed and express such a hope?-We are sick of the subject. Would to God it could be blotted out from the memory of man

A more infamous deed, a more infamous justification, never disgraced even the annals of savage warfare, and this we believe will be the unanmons verdict of the country.

We bope that the press everywhere will speak out, and hold these assassins and their justifiers

Insects, Anta, etc.
The chemical preparations known under the above title for the last 29 years throughout Europe, where they have met with a triumphant success, have acquired for their inventor and manufacturer a world-wide celebrity attested by the Emperors of Russia, France, Austria, the Queen of England, the Kings of Belgium, Holland, Naples, Bavaria, Saxony, etc.; and in America their efficiency has been indorsed by the Directors of Public Institutions, and the approval of numerous private citliseas, and that they are the only remedies in the world sure to exterminate all kinds of vermin.
Meyer's Miraculous Preparations destroy the nuwelcome intruders without mercy, and never fall. His Arthas brought death to millions of them in the werld, and formed in a line amid much excitement, and marched to the coal docks. The priest is doing all he can to avoid a collision, but it seems inevitable as soon as the new men commence to work. THIRD DISPATCE-1:30, P. M .- The new men went to work, when those in the strike commenc-ed throwing coal, but were finally driven off. The new men are much the strongest. The strikers have appointed a committee to make arrange-ments to go to work again, but have not receded in ther demand. The matter will probably be arranged without serious disturbance

Compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry,

AND BREAST, SPITTING OF BLOOD, AND CONSUMPTION,

Is rapidly advancing in the estimation of the public. It is no empirical neatrum; its component principles are made known to the entire medical faculty. It la prepared accurately from the recipe of an experienced and talented physi-cian, and has proved itself to be the greatest remedy for all diseases of the Lungs ever discovered; and wherever it has been introduced it has made cures which are perfectly astonishing. It is bound to supersede every other Cough Medicine before the public. Testimon-lals are daily being sent in to the proprietor, of cures effected even after physicians had abandoned every hope. A single trial will convince the most in credulous of its efficacy in curing that class of diseases for which it is designed. Why is it that so many die every year

We learn that the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad have discontinued their ticket agency in New Orleans, and deposed the former agent. The St.
Louis, Cairo and New Orleans Railroad Line have accordingly established an agency in that city for themselves, and have appointed Capt. Clifford G.
Wavne of the Fying Cloud, Ticket Agent of the

There were three boats descending the falls, all in a string, last evening—the Scioto, E. H. Fairchild and Alvin Adams.

The Empress, Capt. Leyden, from New Pricans, was at Memphis Sunday morning. She adde to-morrow morning, full of passengers. At Evansville last evening, as we learn by pecial dispatch, the river was falling very fast, and the Jacob Traber, Judge Torrence, and J. W. Cheesman had passed up. The high winds which prevailed a few day ago, were particularly severe along the lower ing in the waves at Rockport. The water was clear over her decks midships. The Grapeshot was blown into the woods, and her cabin somewhat smashed, and the Silver Star is reported as having her chimneys and part of her cabin blow-overboard, below Mount Vernon. The J. R. OUR tobacco factory was very near being destroyed by fire on the night of the 7th of January, on Main, near Ninth streets. The roof being partially hurned, our boxes under press were removed in the street, and were partially damaged by the water and rough handling of the boxes. Mr. J. B. Mcilvaine, the agent of dling of the boxes. Mr. J. B. Mclivaine, the agent of the Peorla Insurance Company, came very promptly and ordered the roof to be repaired, &c. Arbitrators were mutually chosen, the damages satisfactorily arranged, and he has this day paid the damages in full, allowing claims for labor in protecting the house from the flames, and for removing the stock out and back into the house. And with promptness on the part of the agent, and on the part of the company in paying losses, I hope to see the Peoria office succeed to a good share of business in our city.

[From the Chicago Daily Free Press and Tribune, Feb 12th, 1559.] THE PROBLE MARISE AND PHRIMSCRANGE COMPARY.—It is with pride and pleasure that we ask the attention of our readers to the statement of this company in our columns this morning. It is the first detailed exhibit of the condition of any home company that we have ever seen, and compares most favorably with the statements of the best Eastern companies. Such an array of assets, amounting in all to $502,556 24, shows most conclusively that we have a company in our own State, as sound and as well managed as any other, no matter where focated. As it regards its promptness and liberality in the settlement of its losses, no company has a hetter reputation. The Peorla Company is doing business in most of the Western and Southern States, inclinding Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, THE PEOBLA MARINE AND FIRE INSCRANCE COMPARY .-- IT most of the Western and Southern States, including Wis-consin, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, where it is obliged to file an annual statement of its con-dition and to comply with the same laws that are required of all Eastern companies. The fact that the company can comply with the laws of those States, which are re-garded as very onerous by many companies, shows that It has the necessary capital, and as available assets as any other company, being subjected to the same provi-sions. The Officers and Directors of this company are men of The lee in the river broke up and commenced running on Wednesday last.
